SUBJECT

ACCENT. Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A (Schmid), March, pp. 185–210.

ACOUSTICS. Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: a comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 505–521.

APTITUDE. Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

AUTOMATICITY. Restructuring or automaticity? Reading in a second language, (McLeod and McLaughlin), June, pp. 109–123.

COMMUNICATIVE COMPETENCE. Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

COGNITIVE FLEXIBILITY. Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

COGNITIVE VARIABLES IN L2 ACQUISITION. ambiguity tolerance—Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

aptitude—Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

discomfort—Analysis of discomfort, risktaking, sociability and motivation in the L2 classroom, An, (Ely), March, pp. 1–25.

field independence—Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

motivation—Age contrasts in the learning of language-relevant materials: some challenges to critical period hypotheses, (Morris and Gerstman), September, pp. 311–352; Analysis of discomfort, risktaking, sociability and motivation in the L2 classroom, An, (Ely), March, pp. 1–25; Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210; Review of Language Proficiency and Academic Achievement, by Charlene Rivera, (Mirhassani), December, pp. 523–526.

pragmatics—Comments on the pro-drop parameter and second language acquisition, (Alvarado), June, pp. 227–230.

risktaking—Analysis of discomfort, risktaking, sociability and motivation in the classroom, An, (Ely), March, pp. 1–25.

sociability—Analysis of discomfort, risktaking, sociability and motivation in the L2 classroom, An, (Ely), March pp. 1–25.

CORE GRAMMAR. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March pp. 65–75.

CREOLE. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75.

CRITICAL PERIOD. Age contrasts in the learning of language-relevant materials: some challenges to critical period hypotheses, (Morris and Gerstman), September, pp. 311–352.

CROSS-CULTURAL COMMUNICATION RULES. Review of Cross-cultural encounters: communication and mis-communication by John Pride, (Allen), September, pp. 387–390.

DERIVATION COMPLEXITY (THEORY OF). Derivational complexity and item diffi- culty in a sentence recognition task, (Perkins, Brutten and Angelis), June, pp. 125–141.

DISCOURSE PROCESSING. Language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf, March pp. 47–64; Review of Topic continuity in discourse: a quantitative cross-language study by Talmy Givon. (Thurgood), December, pp. 533–534

DURATION HYPOTHESIS. Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: a comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 505–521.

ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE. Awareness of form class as a factor in ESL reading comprehension, (Guarino and Perkins), March, pp. 77–82; Derivational complexity and item difficulty in a sentence recognition task, (Perkins, Brutten and Angelis), June pp. 125–141; Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: a comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 505–521; Language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf), March, pp. 47–64.

ENGLISH FOR SPECIFIC PURPOSES. Review of Second Language Acquisition by Adult Immigrants: A Field Manual by Clive Purdue, Review Essay, (Selinker), March pp. 83–100

GOVERNMENT AND BINDING THEORY. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75; Word order typology, lexical government and the prediction of multiple, graded effects in L2 word order, (Zobl), June, pp. 159–183.

HEIRARCHICAL STATE TRANSITION MODEL. Language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf), March, pp. 47–64.

INFORMATION PROCESSING. Restructuring or automaticity? Reading in a second language, (McLeod and McLaughlin), June, pp. 109–123.

INTERLANGUAGE. Review of Second Language Acquisition by Adult Immigrants: A Field Manual by Clive Purdue, Review Essay, (Selinker), March, pp. 83–100;

INTONATION CONTOURS. Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210.

LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY. Analysis of discomfort, risktaking, sociability and motivation in the L2 classroom, An, (Ely), March, pp. 1–25; Awareness of form class as a factor in ESL reading comprehension, (Guarino and Perkins), March, pp. 77–82; Language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf), March, pp. 47–64; Review of Second Language Acquisition by Adult Immigrants: A Field Manual by Clive Purdue, Review Essay, (Selinker), March, pp. 83–100; Review of Language Proficiency and Academic Achievement by Charlene Rivera, (Mirhassani), December, pp. 523–526.

LEARNABILITY. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75; Work order typoligy, lexical government and the prediction of multiple, graded effects in L2 word order, (Zobl), June, pp. 159–183.

LEARNING vs. ACQUISITION. Ambiguity and tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45.

LINGUISTIC STRUCTURE. phonology—Comments on the pro-drop parameter and second-language acquisition, (Alvarado), June pp. 227–230; Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedity, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210.

morphology—Awareness of form class as a factor in ESL reading comprehension, (Guarino and Perkins), March, pp. 77–82; Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210; Universals in relative clause acquisition: evidence from child and adult L1 and L2 learners of Hindi-Urdu, (Hansen), June, pp. 143–158.

syntax—Derivational complexity and item difficulty in a sentence recognition task, (Perkins, Brutten and Angelis), June, pp. 125–141; Universals in relative clause acquisition: evidence from adult L1 and L2 learners of Hindi-Urdu, (Hansen), June, pp. 143–158; Word order typology, lexical government and the prediction of multiple, graded effects in L2 word order, (Zobl), June, pp. 159–183.

MARKEDNESS. Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210; Review of Language Universals and Second-Language Acquisition by William E. Rutherford, (Thurgood), September, pp. 391–393; Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo) March, pp. 65–75; Review of Topic Continuity in Discourse: A Quantitative Cross-Language Study by Talmy Givon, (Thurgood), December, pp. 533–534; Word order typology, lexical government and the prediction of multiple, graded effects in L2 word order, (Zobl), June, pp. 159–183.

NARRATIVE RECALL. Language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf), March, pp. 47–64.

ONTOGENY MODELS. Ontogeny model, The: evidence from L2 acquisition of Spanish /r/, (Major), December, pp. 453–504

PARAMETERS. Comments on the pro-drop parameter and second-language acquisition, (Alvarado), June, pp. 227–230; Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75; Word order typology, lexical government and the prediction of multiple, graded effects in L2 word order, (Zobl), June, pp. 159–183.

PHONETICS. Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: a comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 505–521.

PHONOLOGY. Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: A comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 503–519; Ontogeny Model, The: Evidence from L2 acquisition of Spanish /r/, (Major), December, pp. 453–504.

P-S RULES. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75.

PIDGINS. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75.

PREPOSITIONS. Linguistic and cognitive determinants of lexical acquisition in second language, (Ijaz), December, pp. 401–451; Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75.

RESTRUCTURING. Restructuring or automaticity? Reading in a second language, (McLeod and McLaughlin), June, pp. 109–123.

SECOND LANGUAGE ACQUISITION. adults—Ambiguity tolerance and filed independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language, (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45; Comparative study of children's and adults' acquisition of tone accents in Swedish, A, (Schmid), June, pp. 185–210; Review of Language universals and second language acquisition, by William E. Rutherford, (Thurgood), September, pp. 391–393; Restructuring or automaticity? Reading in a second language, (McLeod and McLaughlin), June, pp. 109–123; Review of Second Language Acquisition by Adult Immigrants: A Field Manual by Clive Purdue, Review Essay (Selinker), March, pp 83–100; universals in relative clause acquisition: evidence from child and adult L1 and L2 learners of Hindi-Urdu, (Hansen), June, pp. 143–158.

children—Universals in relative clause acquisition: evidence from child and adult L1 and L2 learners of Hindi-Urdu, (Hansen), June pp. 143–158.

SECOND-LANGUAGE ACQUISITION RESEARCH METHODOLOGY. Review of Second Language Acquisition by Adult Immigrants: A Field Manual by Clive Purdue, Review Essay, (Selinker), March, pp. 83–100; Review of Techniques in Teaching Writing, by Ann Raimes, (Ryan), December, pp. 535–538; Three approaches to the study of input, (Schacter), June, pp. 211–225.

SEMANTIC RELATEDNESS. Linguistic and cognitive determinants of lexical acquisition in second language, (Ijaz), December, pp. 401–451.

SEX VARIATION IN LANGUAGE. Review of Cross-cultural encounters: Communication and miscommunication by John Pride, (Allen), September, pp. 387–390.

SIMPLIFICATION THEORY. Role of core grammar in pidgin development, The, (Macedo), March, pp. 65–75.

SPECTROGRAPHIC ANALYSIS. Duration and context effects on the perception of English /r/ and /l/: A comparison of Cantonese and Japanese speakers, (Henly and Sheldon), December, pp. 505–521.

STORY GRAMMAR PARADIGM. language proficiency, text content and order effects in narrative recall, (Walters and Wolf), March, pp. 47–64.

TESTS OF L2 PROFICIENCY. cloze—Ambiguity tolerance and field independence as predictors of proficiency in English as a second language (Chapelle and Roberts), March, pp. 27–45; Linguistic and cognitive determinants of lexical acquisition in second language, (Ijaz), December, pp. 401–451; Restructuring or automaticity: Reading in a second language, (McLeod and McLaughlin), June, pp. 109–123.
